At the Bay Point and Bethel Island town halls, over a hundred residents have been able to hear about the county's plan of action if a large scale disaster hits East County. They asked county officials about the Delta's fragile levees, toxic leaks and evacuation routes.

This year's final town hall by County Supervisor Federal Glover will be for the residents of Oakley, Antioch and Pittsburg. It will be held this Thursday, Nov. 17 at 7 p.m. at the Antioch City Council Chambers, 3rd and H Streets.

The presentation of the County Emergency Plan from Contra Costa County staff members has been part of a series of town hall meetings by Glover, supervisor for District 5, a region that includes the cities of Oakley, Antioch and Pittsburg as well as the unincorporated areas of Bethel Island and Bay Point.

Chris Boyer, senior emergency planning coordinator for the county, will present the details of the County Emergency Plan. In addition, Glover will provide updates of county programs and projects in his district.

Some of the initiatives Glover will discuss are the Institute of Industrial Training, which the Board of Supervisors approved earlier this month, and three community task forces studying gang prevention, faith and the HIV/AIDS epidemic.
